For Berlin parents with enrolling children – ANE'S multilingual school consultation

A good start is extremely important for a child's continued success at school. This year's start will be unusual because of limitations on school operations caused by the coronavirus pandemic. Parents need information to understand decisions and to feel confident about sending their children to school.

And families who might not be as familiar with German need information too.

Parents in Berlin can contact the ANE school consultation and ask any questions they have about primary school on the phone in Arabic, German, Kurdish, Spanish, Turkish and Vietnamese.

What do parents need to know about school enrolment?

How can they support their child?

What do parents have to consider with regard to the pandemic?

Where can they get assistance?
